

Cross-departmental Communication & Common Goal (Exploring with Robotics)

Target Audience

HR managers, Trainers, Coaches, Learning & Development professionals

Program Objective

This program simulates real-life situations that require participants to stay calm and communicate effectively under time pressure. Empathy and great listening skills are essential to communicate efficiently, and master the technical tools to achieve the given missions. Each team has to utilize the strengths and potentials of every member to plan, execute, and manage crisis throughout the program.

Program Content

Our programs instill the concept of reconnecting people while harnessing technology. Through our programs, participants with or without technical backgrounds could realize their own potentials to use technology more creatively and widely in their daily lives.
